Social Security ??? & Answers

Send your questions to: Questions and Answers, Social Security Office, P. O. Box 2496, Lynchburg, Va. 24501

Q — I was in the service 2 years before I was wounded in Viet Nam. I am now 22 but haven't been able to go to work. Since I haven't worked on the outside, do I have any benefits coming from Social Security?

A — Active duty in Military Service has been covered by Social Security since 1957. Persons disabled before age 24 require only 1 1/2 years of Social Security credit. Contact your Social Security office.

Q — My son always pays all of my doctor bills and he turns the receipts over to me, I have saw them but never made any claim under Medicare as I did not pay the bills with my own money. Would it be right for me to make a claim for this medical expense that someone else has paid?

A — Yes, Where a doctor bill has been paid, the source of the payment is immaterial as far as reimbursement is concerned.

Q — My husband died the year before Social Security started. I have never worked in employment covered by Social Security and have been dependent upon an unmarried daughter for my support. She was recently killed in an auto accident and I would like to know if I can receive any financial help from Social Security?

A — Monthly Social Security benefits may be paid to a surviving dependent parent who has reached the age of 62. The representative in your Social Security office will be glad to give you further information and assist you in filing your claim.

Q — I have always put my full name on my Medicare "Request for Payment" forms, Why does Social Security insist that I also show my health insurance number?

A — There are over 19 million people enrolled in Medicare and there are many people who have the same name. Therefore, in order to provide positive identification and permit faster processing and payment of your Medicare claim, it is most important for you to show your health insurance claim number.

For instance, Fidelity is far more convenient to more people than any other bank in this part of Virginia. You can not only save but do all your banking at Fidelity.

You can save by mail with Fidelity, and your savings are safe... insured to $15,000 by F.D.I.C. A husband and wife can be insured up to $45,000 by having individual accounts and a joint account.

Regular passbook savings accounts earn 4% interest, compounded quarterly, so that your interest earns interest. And your money is always available for instant use when you need it.

As an added convenience, you can save automatically by letting Fidelity do it for you. Just tell us to deduct a specific amount from your checking account each month and we'll deposit it in your savings account.

5% Fidelity Savings Certificates have an effective annual yield of 5.1271% when the interest is left to accumulate for one year, because it is compounded continuously. No bank pays more. Our certificates are flexible as to investment and length of time. Start with $500 or more with terms of three months or longer. Fidelity Savings Certificates are automatically renewable and your interest can be mailed to you, deposited in your checking or savings account, or left to earn even more interest.
